

A Human Nutrition Assistant/Associate/Full Professor is sought by the Metabolomics Human Nutrition Faculty in the Food Science Department at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville - The position announcement notes that the " ... Human Nutrition faculty position with specialization in bioactive food substances, metabolomics and human nutrition ... is one of two new positions offered through the University of Arkansas' Division of Agriculture to strengthen human nutritional science research and educational programs ... 12-month faculty appointment (80% research and 20% teaching) ... The successful candidate is expected to establish and sustain a strong externally funded research program that integrates nutrition, mammalian metabolomics, bioactive food substances and human health ..."

Document Title: Job Announcement Number Y07091-A - Metabolomics Human Nutrition Faculty - Department of Food Science, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville

Organization: Food Science Department at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville

Source: January 21, 2008 University of Arkansas Human Resources, Employment Opportunities www site and e-mail message from Professor Rosemary Rodibaugh

Applications Due By: The position will be kept open until filled.

Web site: The position announcement is posted at <http://hr.uark.edu/Employment/ListingsJob.asp?ListingID=4603>

Information about the Department of Food Science at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville is posted at <http://www.foodscience.uark.edu/>

Contact: Questions may be directed to Ron Buescher, c/o Pat Stout, University of Arkansas Department of Food Science by e-mail at Buescher@UArk.edu or to Rosemary Rodibaugh, PhD, RD, LD, Professor - Nutrition in Little Rock at 501 671 2111; e-mail: RRodibaugh@UAEx.edu