

Post-Doctoral Associate in Dairy Science

The Dairy Science Department at South Dakota State University, Brookings, SD is offering a postdoctoral Associate position beginning March 2008 for a two year period. Responsibilities include designing and conducting research in the area of dairy ingredient processing. The successful candidate must have documented experience with filtration, evaporation and spray drying. Experience with the manufacture of whey and milk protein concentrates will be a plus. A Ph.D. degree in dairy manufacturing or a closely related field is required. Interested individuals may submit a statement of interest, CV, and names and contact information of 3 professional references to Dr. Lloyd Metzger (Lloyd.Metzger@sdstate.edu) by February 15th 2008. Salary will be commensurate with experience.